

March 30

On this day in 1858, the patent for a pencil with an attached eraser was issued. Taking your pencil's point of view, what do you think a typical day in your classroom would be like?